Job description

Job Purpose:

Forming part of the Project Management Office (PMO) and reporting to the Director of Process & Quality Improvement, the purpose of this role is to lead on the initiation and delivery of business critical improvement projects across the University. Working with all of the University's Schools and professional services teams, the post holder will manage a portfolio of improvement projects that will enable Aston to improve its operations, business systems and processes and thereby contributing towards achieving positive outcomes for the University's beneficiaries – students, business and the professions, and our region and society.

Main duties and responsibilities

- Lead the initiation and delivery of a portfolio of organisation wide improvement projects as agreed by the University Executive, ensuring the completion of the agreed deliverables and that forecast benefits are realised.
- Lead, motivate and direct project management teams / nominated resources (typically 'virtual' and part time teams comprising staff from one or more professional services or academic teams from across the University)
- Lead on stakeholder engagement and communication. In particular, liaise with Executive Project Sponsors, subject matter experts and external suppliers to ensure that work is properly planned and delivered on time. Work collaboratively with project stakeholders to obtain allegiance and address any concerns.
- Work in partnership with the Director of Organisational Change and Organisational Development team to support the delivery of any change management, learning and development activities necessary for project success.
- ▶ Identify, assess and manage risks and issues escalating them for resolution where required.
- Prepare and maintain the necessary project management system (PM3) and documentation including: the project business cases, project management plans, risk registers and activity schedules.
- Manage the information flows and communication between project teams and Executive Sponsors. This includes the production of project status and progress documentation including: highlight reports, issue reports, end project reports.
- Provide guidance and advice to colleagues in the PMO and other members of staff from across the University who are involved in project delivery.
- Support the PMO team to manage and coordinate the overall portfolio of projects and the governance arrangements for major programmes such as Digital Aston.
- Provide coaching and guidance to other Project Managers in the PMO.

Additional responsibilities

- Engage in continuous personal and professional development in line with the demands of the role, including undertaking relevant training and development activities to develop themselves and support the development of others.
- Ensure and promote the personal health, safety and wellbeing of staff and students.
- Carry out duties in a way which promotes fairness in all matters and which engenders trust
- Promote equality of opportunity and support diversity and inclusion as well as working to support the University's environmental sustainability agenda and practices.
